

U.S. Rep. John Campbell recently garnered recognition from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce for his business-friendly voting record. “I appreciate the Chamber of Commerce for taking the time to recognize members of Congress who are committed to removing trade barriers and encouraging free enterprise,... U.S. Rep. John Campbell recently garnered recognition from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce for his business-friendly voting record.

“I appreciate the Chamber of Commerce for taking the time to recognize members of Congress who are committed to removing trade barriers and encouraging free enterprise,” Campbell said in a written statement.

The Chamber’s Spirit of Enterprise Award is given annually to members of Congress based on rankings it gives for key business votes outlined in its yearly publication “How They Voted.”

Campbell racked up a 70% ranking with the chamber last year and holds a cumulative 73% ranking during his tenure in Congress.

The award is based on key pro-business votes in Congress. Those members of Congress who support the chamber’s position on at least 70% of those votes receive the award.

“Rep. Campbell has proven to be an effective ally to the business community, supporting legislation that helps grow the economy and creates new jobs for hardworking Americans,” said Tom Donohue, chamber president and chief executive. “The chamber is grateful for John’s commitment to these important issues and is proud to present him with this award.”